

The Sharing Song

"There are lots of ways for us to share. We can share things to eat, we can share toys.... Let's look at sharing things to eat..."

It's a nice thing to share. It's a friendly thing to do. When I have enough I like to share some with you. The smile on your face. Let's me know you like it, too. And your "thanks a lot!" really hits the spot when I share with you.

"Let's switch places..."

It's a nice thing to share. It's a friendly way to be. When yo have enough and you share some with me. The smile on my face. Makes it, oh, so plain to see. And it's understood that it feels so good when you share with me.

"How about sharing toys?"

It's a nice thing to share. It's a friendly thing to do. When it's my turn to play with a toy and you give me lots of room. If you don't hurry me up. And you wait until I'm through. And then you ask me "please" it makes it easier to share with you.

"Let's switch places again..."

It's a nice thing to share. It's a friendly way to be. When it's your turn to play with a toy I'll give you room to breathe. I won't hurry you up. I'll wait patiently. And then I'll ask you "please" which makes it easier to share with me ...and my "thanks a lot" will really hit the spot when you share with me.

©2008 Smilin' Atcha Music

Written by Red Grammer